CHARTER FOR SUSTAINABLE TOURISM

Before your trip, look into the various transport options for getting to Mulhouse, and take into account your carbon footprint: www.impactco2.fr/transport

Opt for green transport and public transport. Mulhouse and the region have a great network, so make the most of the buses, trams, tram-train, trains and Citiz! You can also rent a bike and take the cycling trails or lanes, or go on foot. It's good for your health, and you can find maps at the Tourist Office!

2.

If you come by car, optimise the trip by car-pooling, chose eco-mode in the car and/or reduce speed: driving at 110 km/h instead of 130 means 20% fewer emissions, which is good for your petrol budget and won't disrupt the day's schedule much!

3.

Limit waste: water in Mulhouse is naturally good to drink, so just fill your water bottle. When shopping, pay attention to product packaging and use your own bag.

4.

Sort your waste, and of course don't litter in the parks, countryside or the street! In your accommodation, your hosts can explain how waste sorting works, if need be.

5.

Keep track of your energy consumption. Turn out lights, don't leave the chargers on all night, use air-conditioning reasonably (no need to set it at 18°C, since the recommended gap between outdoor temperature and air-conditioning is 5 to 7°C at the most). Make moderate use of heating. In winter, you can always wear a jumper indoors, too!

6.

Try to reduce water consumption. You don't need to sing in the shower!

AND A HAPPY VISITOR

Choose short supply chains when shopping: for food, you can go to the market. Pick local farmers, and if they are organic, bingo! It's always nice to have a chat with them. A map of local farms is available at the Tourist Office.

8.

For souvenirs, prefer products made in Mulhouse or made in Alsace. There is no shortage of craftsmanship or skills here!

9.

In the restaurant, eat local and seasonal (so make sure you choose restaurants recommended by your favourite Tourist Office!). PS: world cuisine can also include local ingredients 10.

Opt for environmentally friendly activities: hiking, bicycle touring, do some sightseeing and go to museums... Enjoy a stroll and take your time.

11.

Meet the locals: the natives are friendly. You can take a tour with a greeter to see Mulhouse and the region!

And enjoy! Take your time, because you are here to see new things and enjoy yourself... and there is no contradiction with recommendations for sustainable tourism, quite the reverse! See our commitments on www.tourisme-mulhouse.com/

BRAND NEW!

In and around Mulhouse, here are the places and events making the news. Make a note of them, because they are well worth a visit!

"A Jaunt with Louis de Funès": the exhibition not to be missed!

Would you like to immerse yourself in the legendary world of Louis de Funès? The National Automobile Museum invites you to an extraordinary exhibition dedicated to the famous French comic actor. Posters, film-set photos, accessories and most of all iconic cars from his films are in the spotlight. The visit is a chance to see the cars you spotted in Louis de Funès' films from the 1960s to the 1980s, including the Citroën 2 CV in Le Corniaud (The Sucker) and the Méhari in the Gendarmes films.

See Mulhouse in green

The aim is to rethink the place of nature and water in the city. Square du Général de Gaulle, opposite Mulhouse train station, has been totally renovated. Now you can take a stroll along the Rhine-Rhone canal, which was for a long time hidden beneath a concrete slab.

In the same spirit, the Museum Terraces are opening in summer 2023. This new, tree-lined leisure space is ideal for a walk alongside the River Ill. A pebble beach is also planned, giving direct access to the riverbank.

The Hotel Salvator has a great new look!

The Mulhouse Salvator Centre Hotel has a new lease of life after renovations. The 3-star hotel is now a Best Western and is located a step or two away from the historic centre of Mulhouse. It is attractive both for its modern decoration and ample dimensions. From this ideally located hotel, it is easy to explore the streets of the city centre and try the tea rooms, restaurants and other treats... Or take it easy in Salvator Park, just a few yards away

Wine and dine at the Cité du Train!

The railways have always had a special relationship with gastronomy, whether through their freight services or their own catering offer (station buffets, etc.). From the gourmet meal served on board the Orient Express to the popular "SNCF Sandwich", the Cité du Train is offering a comprehensive outlook on the history of railway catering through the ages, with exhibitions, conferences, weekend meetings with volunteers and unusual themed dinners: the 1970s, station buffets, going on holiday, returning from holiday and gourmet dinners.

10 years of Tango in Mulhouse

The "Printemps du Tango" festival is celebrating its 10th anniversary in 2023. The festival is an essential event for fans of the famous Argentinian dance. It is regarded as THE tango festival in France, plunging visitors into a festive and lively atmosphere each year. For the upcoming festival, creativity will be the watchword in a highly varied programme to delight fans, experts or beginners! Shows, exhibitions, beginners' lessons and concerts will be featured in 4 days of dancing excitement.

Dan Gerbo Contemporary Art Museum Amazing objects made into art

The Mulhouse artist Dan Gerbo has achieved one of his biggest dreams by opening a museum. Dan Gerbo has made a big impact in Mulhouse by installing an upright fighter plane named Le Repos du Guerrier (The Warrior's Rest). His work stands out due to its unique and original features. The artist is well aware of the upheavals taking place in the world. He likes to provoke reactions by putting luxury items to new uses. Such as his famous work displaying an impaled Ferrari, showing how even a symbol of power can still be fragile...

A DAY WITH...

...Noémie, aka HungryNo on Instagram. Noémie is a content creator from Mulhouse with almost 9,000 followers on Instagram. Her speciality? Our mouths will be watering with the delicious restaurants she finds in Alsace and elsewhere. With her partner Florian and her corgi Tchaï, she takes us to tasty, local and dog friendly spots!

9am

To get the day off to a good start, we have breakfast in one of our favourite places, almost our daily canteen, Les Arcades Omnino. The coffee roasters in Alsace have opened their "watering hole" in Mulhouse. Breakfast, lunch, snacks, drinks: they have a committed approach based on local suppliers and short supply chains.

11am

Next, we set off for the covered canal market (the biggest market in eastern France). You go there on foot, since it is a chance to see some of the attractive sights in the historic city centre on the way! We love shopping here: it is a multicultural spot, where you can enjoy a chat with the stallholders. For lunch, our favourite place is Chez Vincent, a Lebanese food-truck. It's my favourite in 2022!

More information: @hungryno\_

1pm

Back to the city! I love street-art and especially in Mulhouse, since it is quite unusual here, more than in other cities. Among my favourite spots are the M.U.R. Mulhouse, the Vinie fresco and the Quai des Pêcheurs on the banks of the River Ill.

4pm

Time for a snack! We will take you to discover a concept that is rare in France: Le Boudoir de Léa. The pastry chef works in a bookshop specialising in comics, Canal BD-Tribulles. Léa's menu changes regularly and is based on local fruits. She goes as far as to make quite surprising desserts, including her delicious tomato-basil tartlet.

5pm

What about a spot of shopping? Do you know the attractive Bretzel & Arc-en-Ciel creators' shop? I love the dried flower creations at L'Escale Mellifère. They have their own corner in the shop and organise workshops there. I also like Clara's watercolour posters (Chardon Ferme Florale), especially the poster we published together, "Epicurean Mulhouse". As for Laura, the manager, she makes lovely knitted dolls for children's bedrooms.

7pm

After such a busy day, it is not easy to choose a restaurant for dinner. We will take you on a trip to Italy, at Panettone, a restaurant serving real Neapolitan pizzas. Here, we love the warm welcome, the high-quality ingredients and generous pizzas. Yummy!

...Jérôme Zindy.

Cycling is his philosophy of life. Jérôme is a cycling journalist who loves the world of the bike. He criss-crosses France on two wheels, in zero CO2 mode, to highlight inspirational men and women, ecologically responsible initiatives and green transport. Of course, he takes us by bike to visit Mulhouse and the region.

9am

I will take you for a coffee at Kohi. This is a very cute café serving great coffees with small cakes. It's an authentic, artisanal spot, exactly how I like them!

10am

Then follow me to Mulhouse city centre to see some of the top spots! On Place de la Réunion, we can evoke the city's history, and how it first became a textile centre and then an industrial hub. As for the famous Tour de l'Europe, the tower's 50th anniversary is in 2023! And then there is the "green" side of the city: it is already protected by quite a few trees, and there is a refreshing touch to do you good! Added to that there is a real culture of floral decoration and some magnificent landscaped parks: Steinbach Park, Salvator Park and, of course, the Zoological and Botanical Park!

12pm

Next up is a vegetarian lunch at Le Temps d'une Pause café. It's really great, they serve tasty dishes and they have a wonderful little terrace facing the M.U.R. Mulhouse (run by the association of the same name), which regularly hosts a different artist.

2pm

To digest our lunch, what could be better than getting back on the bike? We head for the Rhone-Rhone canal, between Mulhouse and Zillisheim. In just a few minutes, you find yourself in a very natural setting. See the swans, the herons and the life around the canal, on a cycling trail well away from the traffic. You can get back to nature, smell the breeze, the fragrances: true happiness! In Flaxlanden, we take a quick trip to L'inattendu Jardin of Line Schurrer, an original market garden, an experiment on the living soil carried out by a truly inspirational and passionate woman!

More information: @jerometraveler

We then pedal as far as the forest in Zillisheim to see the Great Cannon site. Here, during the 1st World War, the Germans set up a cannon in great secrecy to be fired on Wesserling and Belfort. The gigantic pit and galleries still remain from the impressive military installation.

5pm

Then it's back to Mulhouse to see the DMC site. This incredible place was a real discovery for me. Here you are entering the French Manchester (one of Mulhouse's nicknames) with its red bricks – you can imagine the city's industrial era with the smoking chimneys, hundreds of men and women starting work to the sound of the church bells, the foremen and their horses... A setting straight out of Peaky Blinders, making it a must-see site for fans of the series!

7pm

We round off this dynamic day in a place I only discovered recently: the Climbing Mulhouse Center (CMC). It is a real great surprise: in the DMC site there is a climbing room with incredibly high walls (France's tallest climbing wall is here, 25 metres high!). Even if you are not a climber, the site is worth a visit to drink a beer or eat a pancake... You can climb with or without ropes, take a beginners' session... Personally, it helped to clear my head and give myself a challenge!

2 DAYS WITH...

...Laziz Belkai.

Laziz Belkai is a native of Mulhouse and a film producer, who shuttles between Paris and Sundgau, a region south of Mulhouse. He was the production manager on the film "Le Principal" starring Roschdy Zem. He was the one who suggested shooting the film in Mulhouse. He is always happy to come back to Mulhouse, alone or with his family. The city is on a human scale, and there are plenty of things to see and do nearby (including the Wine Route, the Vosges mountains, Switzerland and Germany).

10am

We love going to the Zoological and Botanical Park on sunny days. The gardens are magnificent, and my daughter loves seeing the animals! Having a green space just 2 km from the city centre is really great. We also like going to the Automobile Museum, the Cité du Train, the Electropolis Museum... It is hard to choose because there are so many things to do!

12.30pm

Right next to the Zoological and Botanical Park is L'Auberge du Zoo, a restaurant where we love the setting and the decoration. Plus, you can eat some really hearty dishes!

2pm

We then go back to Mulhouse city centre. I really love to walk here. Mulhouse is a friendly city on a human scale, where everything is within easy reach. For someone who lives in Paris, it's a real bonus. Often I take my daughter to Steinbach Park. It was recently renovated, and there is a great play area with wooden games. Ideal for children!

4pm

What about a coffee and a cake at Café Mozart? It overlooks one of my favourite spots, Place de la Réunion, with a view over the magnificent Saint-Etienne church. The terrace in the centre of the square is perfect on a sunny summer's day.

7pm

On the way back to Sundgau, we stop off at one of our favourite places: the open-air Sun Pub just outside Illfurth. You can have a bite to eat, chicken and chips, and enjoy the view over the Rhone -Rhine canal to round off our evening...

DAY 2

9am

Mulhouse is the ideal starting point for a breath of fresh air. There is a countryside feel to it that I never find in Paris. Here, in less than an hour, you can easily get out and about, either along the Wine Route, in the Sundgau region or in one of the many valleys nearby... Mulhouse is also a city open to Europe, to the world, uniquely close to 2 countries, Switzerland and Germany.

But today I have decided to take you to the Vosges region and more specifically to Kruth-Wildenstein lake. I love to walk in the mountains, close by! Here, you can find open-air games, enjoy a walk around the lake or go hiking, take a swim or a pedalo... There are even barbecues available for picnic fans, like me.

4pm

We love leisure activities like bowling. I like to have fun at Cristal Bowling with my daughter and my partner. We always have a great time!

6pm

For the last stage in our Mulhouse journey, I will invite you for a drink at Murphy's in Rue de la Justice. The bar is run by a friend of mine. I have been meeting up with friends here for years.

INTERVIEW SYLVAIN VERNEREY

DIRECTOR OF THE CITE
DU TRAIN PATRIMOINE SNCF

"Events and activities are part of the site's DNA"

Sylvain Vernerey has been managing director of the Cité du Train – Patrimoine SNCF since 2005. As a player in the renewal of this iconic site in Mulhouse, with visitor numbers regularly increasing, he reveals the secrets of the museum's success and tells us about upcoming events.

The Cité du Train saw a rise in visitor numbers in 2022 compared with 2019 (before COVID) and got off to a strong start in 2023. What is the key to its success?

The museum's DNA is the activities and events policy. Today, this is the best way to open up the venue to people who would not necessarily come to visit a "museum" or to people who are not initially interested in railways. Alongside its exceptional collection, the museum is also a place to explore, to interact, with non-stop activity, above and beyond the world of trains.

What are the highlights in fact?

There are many events all through the year attracting large numbers of people and helping us to fulfil our mission, which is to introduce our heritage to the general public: concerts, exhibitions, murder parties... One of the highlights of the year is the train model fair, which takes place on the weekend of the European Heritage Days. All these events help us to broaden our public. And it works: more and more families with young children are coming to visit the Cité du Train. And they leave with a smile on their faces... Our main source of satisfaction.

There is always something happening at the Cité du Train: it's our motto. We organise at least one event for the general public each month. It is out of the question to rest on our laurels.

Are there any special events this year?

In 2023, we inaugurated the exhibition "La Cité du Train se met à Table" ("The Cité du Train at the Dining Table"). The aim is to recount the history of restaurants and gastronomy in relation to the railways: station buffet restaurants, meal services, transporting food supplies, etc. From the very popular "SNCF Sandwich" to the gastronomic meals served on board the Orient-Express, the visit features 5 unusual dinners on a wide range of themes: the station buffet restaurant, going on holiday, gastronomic meals before boarding the Orient Express...

One of the centrepieces at the Cité du Train is also celebrating its anniversary...

In 2023, the Bugatti railcar will be 90 years old. In 1933, the famous car maker Ettore Bugatti developed a revolutionary railcar using the four engines from the Royale. Today, there is only one railcar left, and it is in the Cité du Train in Mulhouse. This exceptional piece is given very special attention each year, in partnership with the Bugatti brand.

And what if I want to drive a train?

"Y experience" introduces visitors to the jobs involved in driving trains in the course of a day. As part of this fun and friendly day, visitors can learn the basics of driving a train, as explained by a team of volunteers, most of them former SNCF train drivers. In the afternoon, you can put into practice what you learned in the morning on real equipment and on the museum rails.

A great programme!

With our team, we go out of our way to bring satisfaction, enjoyment, interaction and a sense of wonder to our visitors. Since I originally worked in luxury hotels and restaurants, I know how important "first impressions" are in welcoming the public.

Where's your favourite place in Mulhouse?

I am from Burgundy, and when I first came to Alsace, I found the same spirit of gastronomy and wine that I love so much. But apart from that, I also love cars, so I was really happy to see the wonderful collection at the Automobile Museum here in Mulhouse. I go there on a regular basis and always see it with a sense of wonder.

ONE MUSEUM, ONE ORIGINAL OBJECT

The railway worker's pocket watch

The Cité du Train is the biggest train museum in Europe. It tells the story of France's railways on a journey introducing you to the world of outstanding locomotives and carriages.

Keeping track of time is vital for train drivers. Leaving and arriving on time, changing tracks, following another train at a certain distance. This mechanical precision watch from the 1920s was designed to make it easy to see the time and to guarantee train manoeuvres ran smoothly.

NATIONAL AUTOMOBILE MUSEUM

The National Automobile Museum presents an exceptional collection of cars originally belonging to 2 textile entrepreneurs, the Schlumpf brothers. You can see over 450 models in a 17,000m<sup>2</sup> exhibition hall.

In 1942, the designer Arzens was already seeking to respond to the issues of our car-based society with its traffic jams and energy crises. He invented the Egg, a small, light, electric and futuristic vehicle. After the war, he equipped it with a two-stroke engine and continued to use it as a private vehicle.

The aircraft manufacturer Sud-Aviation is famous for producing the Caravelle and Concorde. After the Second World War, the company diversified and made household appliances. So it is no coincidence that the design of this Téléavia TV set was inspired by the world of aircraft, space travel and 1950s science fiction.

MUSEUM OF PRINTED FABRICS

The Museum of Printed Fabrics brings textile printing to a wider audience through its textile collections, graphic arts, archives, samples books and industrial equipment and machines.

This tapestry was brought to Europe in about 1790 by merchants from the East India companies. The originality of the design lies in the way large peonies take over the canvas. They are dyed red, symbolising prosperity and vitality, and are linked to religious and divine rituals in India.

In October 1913, Dominique Richert was called up for military service in the German army, while his cousin, Xavier, would fight for France. Dominique and Xavier hence became "enemies" during the war. # THE MAGIC OF CHRISTMAS IN & AROUND MULHOUSE

In Mulhouse, the Christmas market is sure to enchant you!

From 24 November to 27 December, the magic of Christmas is back to delight children and adults. For 5 weeks, Mulhouse is decorated in its finest lights and perfumed with the fragrance of gingerbread and mulled wine. Since it was launched 33 years ago, the Mulhouse Christmas Market has added a truly original touch of authenticity and tradition by highlighting the city's industrial heritage. Mulhouse is the only city in France where each year a new Christmas fabric is created, with the material joining a rich collection. The fabric is made each year by a local artist. It gives the Christmas market its unique and striking identity.

In 2023, the Christmas market will be celebrating the joy and warmth of getting together on Place de la Réunion. So, the Christmas fabric adorning the Christmas decorations will be shown alongside plant displays to create a truly magical and natural atmosphere.

And of course, the 80 chalets set up in the old town centre will delight visitors and awaken their senses with local specialities and arts and crafts.

Numerous activities are also scheduled, with guided tours, storytelling, carols, concerts, museum exhibitions and hands-on workshops... A whole host of festivities providing exciting and varied options for all the family.

📅 November 24th to December 27th 2023
